Here is a honey hole for late season Cow Elk Hunts. This is a great experience for hunters, just like hunting bull elk without the higher cost of horn hunting. These hunts are very enjoyable and very successful. We are professional outfitters and guides and will provide you an experience of professional hunting just like we do for our September, October and November bull elk hunters at 1/3rd of the cost.

This time of the year elk cows have moved down onto the private land hayfields. This is a great time to hunt without blaze orange everywhere as it can be during the regular seasons. We have been running at 200% or more on the opportunity and close to 100% on the harvest. It is a great hunt for a family on a budget, with low cost license, high success rate and a low cost private land guided hunt. Cow elk meat can be more tender and milder flavor than a bull. Think about it, no one passes on shooting a 6x6 bull because his meat may be tough and possible stronger smelling than a cow. Also this time of the year it is cold enough that the chance of your meat spoiling is non-existent, in fact it will usually freeze solid if hung outside one night. The success level of this hunt is much, much higher than a fall bull elk hunt.

We have many family and relative hunts where a group of 4 hunters will all be related and from different cities in Colorado and even outside of Colorado. The Colorado Cow hunts go extremely fast and we only have a few dates available, for this hunt. You must apply for this license in March because it is so well received and a limited number there are never any licenses leftover after the draw.

We are offering 3-day guided COLORADO cow elk hunts from November – December / Cow Elk Hunts: We are offering high success late season cow hunts for hunters looking to fill the freezer.

Last year all of the Colorado cow elk hunts sold out and you were forced to go to other states and pay for a non-resident license. This is a great hunt to stay in Colorado, put a group together and hunt Colorado's western Slope in the Meeker, Colorado area some of the elk golden triangle where the population is the highest in the world. In the winter when these cow herd up together it is an amazing sight to see a herd of 1000 elk moving across the hayfields. In big numbers they become more brazen and because of that and the time of year they are definitely less spooky when compared to the October seasons.

This is a 3-day guided hunt which will be conducted on 1 of our 3 different properties Ranch/Properties. The late season cow runs from the end of 4th season rifle in November through December. We have a list of the local motels for you to select and stay in during your hunt. There is no meals and lodging in your hunt. Guides will pick up clients early in the morning from local hotels, and then take you hunting from dawn to dusk, and provide you with lunch in the field. No more than four people per group. Where we will be hunting is determined by pre-scouting of the properties to find where the largest number of elk is staying. This time of the year the elk don't move or burn any energy that they do not need to so most times where they are one day, is where they are the next day unless they get pushed.

Note: Late season cow tags are draw only. If this hunt is of interest to you or your friends it is imperative to get the hunt booked early. Also, visit the Colorado Division of Wildlife to inquire about late season cow elk youth hunting opportunities. The Colorado big game draw opens in early February and closes April, 4th 2017. Do not expect to purchase a leftover cow elk license for these hunts because they usually provide a 100% draw for those that put in even as a second choice license and a point as the first choice.

We will apply for the cow elk license for you after you book the hunt. The Colorado Parks and Wildlife will mail the license directly to your door in July. This is a Cow elk license and in almost all cases it is a private land only license. You will be hunting our private land. Because of this you can still get an (OTC) over the counter bull for 2nd or 3rd season or any of the leftover licenses in August.

Everything listed below are available dates. Pick three days and we'll make it work.
